DESIGNER RYAN GORDON JACKSON IMBUES A CALIFORNIA COASTAL RETREAT WITH ALL THE ELEGANCE AND STRENGTH OF AN EXTRA DRY MARTINI

Who says a vacation home can't be sophisticated—and even glamorous? When an international family wanted their seaside escape in a community south of Newport Beach, California, to reflect their tastes more fully, they turned to Los Angeles designer RYAN GORDON JACKSON to add drama and impact. He conjured a suite of furnishings that are monochromatic, lush, and comfortable, yet so boldly sculptural they can easily hold their own against the stunning ocean views. Standout lighting pieces lead the eye through the expansive, high-ceilinged rooms where a collection of paintings and sculptures that the designer curated for the home add further richness and delight.
